VRI Homes

Serving Bergenfield with energy, honesty, and care.

My name is John Kradenski, and as a REALTOR® with VRI Homes, my goal is to make your real estate experience as smooth, enjoyable, and stress-free as possible. As a former collegiate student-athlete, I learned the importance of discipline, preparation, and consistently putting in the work to achieve results. I bring those same values to every client I serve. Whether you're buying your first home, selling your current one, or searching for your next investment property, I'm committed to providing honest guidance, local market knowledge, and personalized service every step of the way. My priority is helping you make confident decisions while finding a place you'll be proud to call home.

ABOUT BERGENFIELD

*Small Town Feel,
Big Community Spirit*

Population
28,321

County
Bergen

Known For
Cooper's Pond

A Welcoming Bergen County Borough

Bergenfield is a lively, welcoming borough in Bergen County that combines a traditional suburban atmosphere with convenient access to New York City. The community is known for its residential neighborhoods, active recreation programs, local businesses, and culturally diverse population.

Community Character

The 2020 Census recorded 28,321 residents in Bergenfield. Census estimates show a richly diverse community, with many residents born outside the United States and more than half speaking a language other than English at home. Washington Avenue serves as a central commercial corridor filled with shops, dining, and everyday services.

Parks & Recreation

One of Bergenfield's best-known landmarks is Cooper's Pond, a scenic community gathering place used for walking, photography, summer concerts, craft fairs, fishing activities, and seasonal events. Throughout the year, Bergenfield also hosts recreation programs, holiday celebrations, wellness events, and family-friendly community gatherings.

A suburban borough with small-town warmth and big community spirit.

THINGS TO DO

Simple ways to enjoy Bergenfield year-round.

1 Relax at Cooper's Pond

Take a peaceful walk around the pond, enjoy the gazebo, take photos, or bring lunch for a casual picnic. It is also a popular setting for borough celebrations and seasonal events.

2 Visit the Bergenfield Museum

Located at 100 Cooper Street, the museum features historic photographs, original Cooper chairs, vintage toys, military information, local artifacts, and exhibits on Bergenfield history.

3 Cool Off at a Splash Pad

Families can enjoy the splash pads at Walter Lubbe Jr. Playground at Memorial Field and Ross Applegate Park on Hickory Avenue, both with nearby playground equipment.

4 Play Pickleball at Thomas Roos Park

Thomas Roos Park on Clover Street offers pickleball courts along with a playground, making it a great spot for both adults and children.

5 Explore Neighborhood Parks

Check out local favorites such as George Hendrickson Park, John Pall Park, Fred Triplett Park, Edwin Grube Park, Jacoby Park, and Charles Richardson Park.

6 Play or Watch Local Sports

Twin Boro Park includes baseball, football, and soccer fields, while Memorial Field offers baseball and softball facilities. Local recreation groups provide sports programs year-round.

7 Attend a Community Event

Annual favorites include Family Fun Day, Fishing Derby, Easter Egg Hunt, Halloween Parade, holiday celebrations at Cooper's Pond, and community 5K events.

8 Visit the Bergenfield Public Library

The library at 50 West Clinton Avenue offers children's and adult programs, study rooms, museum passes, technology support, and a Library of Things.

From parks and sports to library programs and seasonal events, there is always something to enjoy.
