VRI Homes

Helping People. Building Brighter Futures.

Helping people has always been what I do best. With a background in healthcare, I learned the importance of listening, staying organized, and genuinely caring for others. I now bring that same mindset to every client I work with in real estate. I understand how significant buying or selling a home can be, and I'm here to make the process clear, manageable, and even exciting.

Outside of real estate, I love spending time with family and friends. Music is one of the things that keeps life fun and balanced for me.

A Historic Borough

Freehold Borough is a small but vibrant borough in Monmouth County, New Jersey, located about 35 miles from Manhattan and 17 miles from Staten Island. It serves as the county seat and is part of the New York metropolitan area.

A Rich History

Originally known as Monmouth Courthouse, Freehold became the county seat in 1775. The Leni Lenape were among the earliest known inhabitants. The nearby Battle of Monmouth (1776) — one of the largest engagements in the Revolutionary War — helped shape the town's patriotic legacy.

Downtown & Community Life

Freehold is known for its lively downtown with restaurants, shops, boutiques, and frequent events including street fairs, outdoor concerts, and holiday festivals. The borough also features historic buildings, landmarks, and a strong sense of community.

Parks & Recreation

Freehold offers beautiful parks, walking trails, recreational facilities and community programs for all ages, making it a great place to live, work and visit.
